Description

A simply stunning, four bedroom Georgian conversion flat with views directly over the heath.

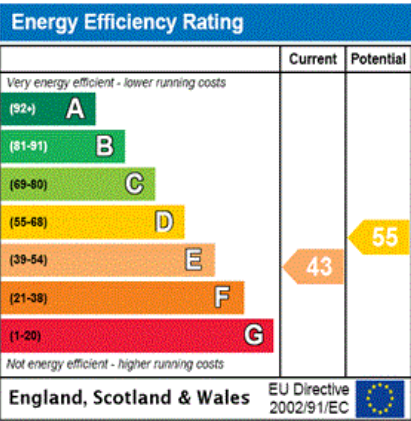

Offered to the market for the first time in many years, this property occupies the hall floor of Heathfield House. The hall floor is often associated with high ceilings, large windows and impressive rooms all of which are on display here. The generous proportions are complemented beautifully by the period features which include open fires with marble surrounds, ornate decorative cornicing, original shutters and twelve foot high ceilings.

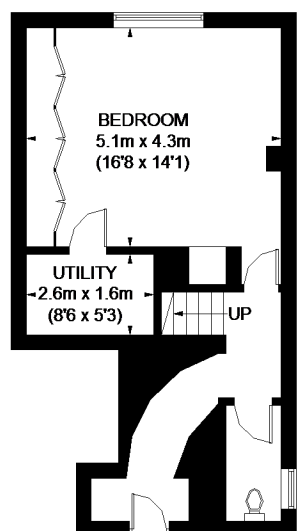

On the ground floor, the entrance leads into a large, panelled hallway with the first view extending straight through the kitchen onto the private section of garden. The light and space of the accommodation is immediately apparent. The accommodation comprises of four bedrooms (master with en-suite), a beautiful kitchen dining room with Chambers furniture leading onto the private garden through any of one of three doors in the curved bay, a reception room with high ceilings and a double aspect including uninterrupted views across the heath, family bathroom and a separate WC. There is off road parking on the carriage driveway to the front and a separate secure garage.

This property is full of period charm and steeped in history. The house was built circa 1800 for a local Rotherhithe shipbuilder whose most famous creation was HMS Serapis, a ship which was to become the namesake of the unconventional, early United States ensign. We are delighted to offer the opportunity to purchase such a wonderful home with such a rich history.

Heathfield House is within a few hundred metres of the centre of Blackheath Village making it a superb location for all the village has to offer, with its various shops, bars and restaurants to choose from. The open expanse of the heath is quite literally on your doorstep and provides a scenic recreation area and gives a wonderful rural feel to one of London's true villages. Blackheath station is ideal for commuting into town with regular services to London Bridge, Charing Cross, Cannon Street and London Victoria. One stop down the line will bring you to Lewisham Station where the DLR service provides regular services into Canary Wharf and Bank.
